

Dear Bengalureans! Bengaluru NavaNirmana Party (BNP)

is India's only "city-party" with a very clear focus & promise of getting work done on the ground (fixing potholes, streamlining solid waste, clearing drains, reviving lakes, restoring tree cover, caring for animals & environment etc.)

It has been founded in Bengaluru and will be focused only on the municipal elections in the Greater Bengaluru area, primarily the BBMP elections.

WHO IS YOUR INSPIRATION?

When I decided that I will take a break from my corporate life and spend full-time on BNP to bring about a change in Bengaluru, the first reaction of many people was – “Are you really sure you want to do this?” We keep getting confronted with this question for almost every new initiative that we embark upon. And clearly, there is no easy or clear-cut answer to that question. Because, no matter how much convinced we are or how much conviction we hold, there are always moments when we are wracked with self-doubt.

Usually, these instances of self-doubting happen quite a few times even before we have started. And these are the occasions when we need a strong anchoring or grounding to make sure that we don't let those doubts defeat us or cripple us. That is really where people & personalities act as inspirations for us to stay the course! People who, through their lives & deeds, show us that there is always a way and it is definitely possible, no matter how tough something seems.

Interestingly, these personalities & inspirations need not be “big” personalities or celebrities. Such people exist around us – our own friends, family & relatives. For me, my inspiration to face any kind of adversity has been my mother, who recently passed away on 8th May 2020, after a life filled with struggle. She was widowed at a young age of 35 and was left with 3 small children including an infant without any money or savings. She took up the challenge head on and fought multiple battles with a single-minded will that she will not only take care of the family but also make her children successful.

At every turn, life threw a challenge at her and asked her the question, “Are you really sure you want to do this?” Every single time, her response was, “Yes! I will fight hard and I will never give up!” Despite all odds stacked against her, she achieved what she set out to achieve, without compromising on any of her values. She showed that we can overcome all odds if we put in our will, passion, hard work & single-minded commitment!

She is my first heroine! She is my first inspiration! She is the reason why I am doing what I am doing in BNP!

SURAKSHITA BENGALURU

Surakshita Bengaluru is an initiative to provide reusable masks to the economically vulnerable sections of Bengaluru to ensure a safe post-lockdown survival for all. The cotton masks are being procured from self-help groups and local tailors of the city to support their livelihoods. We aim to raise at least ₹10 lakhs to distribute 50,000 masks.

In the post-lockdown world, masks are essential to ensure that our city is safe. The economically vulnerable have no choice but to risk their health in search of earnings for daily survival. Many of them do not have the resources to buy masks, thereby endangering their health. It is in this context that Bengaluru NavaNirman Party (BNP) began its initiative Surakshita Bengaluru. BNP has so far distributed over 8000 masks in around 10 localities and has raised over ₹3.7 lakhs.

Each one of us must support the initiative by donating, sharing the message on social media portals to your friends.

Donate Here

A Surakshita Bengaluru is achievable only if each one of you donate, get your friends to donate, spread the message & volunteer in distribution.

WHY IS BNP UNIQUE & DIFFERENT?

BNP is India's only "city-only" party with a very clear focus & promise of getting work done on the ground (fixing potholes, streamlining solid waste, clearing drains, reviving lakes, restoring tree cover, caring for animals & environment etc.).

BNP Team Members have a strong track record of building organizations like Bangalore Apartments' Federation (BAF), Whitefield Rising (WR), Federation of Villa Communities, Citizens For Bengaluru (CfB), Pothole Raja etc. with connect to lakhs of citizens.

BNP will not contest MLA or MP Elections. Supporters of BJP, Congress, AAP etc. are uniting under the BNP umbrella purely for the city & BBMP elections, while still continuing their support to other parties at the state & national level.

BNP is not just ideologically driven to good governance but also has a clear path to winning elections in quite a few wards due to the strong grassroots connect in apartments, slums, villas, layouts & RWAs.

HOW PLACES IN BANGALORE GOT THEIR NAME | Credits: Balaji Kasiraj (Quora)

HSR

It stands for Hosur, Sarjapur road.

Banashankari and Malleswaram get their names from the Banashankari temple and Kadu malleshwara temple in the locality.

Basavanagudi

Basava is the bull and gudi stands for temple, in Kannada. Hence the bull temple road.

BTM

It gets its name from its surrounding areas, Byrasandra, Taverekere and Madiwala.

Majestic

popularly known for the bus station, acquired its name from a very famous cinema theatre nearby.

BNP ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Garbage Tax |

While the implementation of SWM bylaws is necessary, the imposition of the additional burden of 200/- on all categories of waste generators is not only unfair but could heavily pushback against efforts for onsite processing by bulk generators. Not only should there be no additional charges for in situ management, the civic body must consider waivers if it hopes to manage the city's growing waste burden in these times of the corona pandemic.

Surakshita Bengaluru |

No one should be left behind in our fight against COVID-19 for the want of effort on our part. Surakshita Bengaluru aims to provide masks to the most vulnerable.
